

CHARLOTTE MARTRES

✉ charlotte.martres@psemail.eu

Research Interests

- Matching
- Mechanism design
- Microeconomic Theory
- Behavioral Economics
- Experimental Economics

Education

Paris School of Economics

Paris, France

PhD Candidate

2024 – present

- Thesis: Essays in dynamic matching with endogenous participation
- Advisor: Olivier Tercieux

M.Res. in Economics (APE) (2nd year), Highest honors

2022 – 2023

- Master's thesis: "Kidney exchange with endogenous participation of patient-donor pairs", under the supervision of Olivier Tercieux (PSE, CNRS)
- Main: Market design, Network economics, Welfare economics, Environmental economics

ENS Paris-Saclay

Paris, France

Degree in Economics

2020 – 2024

- Degree including a Master's degree and a year of predoctoral research, focusing on the development of skills related to research, teaching, multidisciplinary and international mobility. Students are selected via competitive entrance exam and receive a scholarship for the duration of their studies.

M.Res in Economics (MoE), (1st year), Highest honors

2021 – 2022

- Master's thesis: "The effect of decentralization of college admission procedure on preference discovery", under the supervision of Victor Hiller (LEMMA)
- Main courses: Microeconomics, Macroeconomics, Econometrics

B.Sc. in Economics, Highest honors

Paris, France

- Minor in Sociology

Research Experiences

ISERP - Columbia University

New York, USA

Visiting Student Intern (Predoctoral Fellow)

March 2023 - July 2023

- Advisor: Yeon-Koo Che

WZB

Berlin, Germany

Academic Exchange Guest (Predoctoral Fellow)

Sept 2023 - March 2023

- Advisor: Dorothea Kübler

RITM – Université Paris-Saclay

Paris, France

Research Assistant

May 2022 - July 2022

- Research assistant to Pr. José De Sousa in gender economics.

Skills

Statistics & modelling softwares: R (advanced) ; Stata, Python (intermediate)

Other IT skills: L^AT_EX, Microsoft Office, Qualtrics, JavaScript

Languages: French (native), English (C2 - Cambridge certificate in Advanced English Grade A), Spanish